

Disclaimer

While we here at the Lakeside Neurologic, strive for perfection it is not possible to be one hundred percent accurate about all things pertaining to this subject. Therefore the information expressed in this Webpage is not medical advice. It is meant only to educate persons about the current status and treatment of brain injury patients at The Lakeside Neurologic, Before making any medical decisions, patients with brain injuries or persons caring for brain injury patients are advised to consult with their personal physicians before making any medical decisions., Furthermore the Lakeside Neurologic, will not be liable for any complications, injuries or other medical accidents arising from or in connection with the use of or reliance upon any information on this website.

Code of Ethical Conduct

Lakeside Neurologic is committed to providing care, treatment and services within its scope, stated mission and philosophy, and applicable laws and regulations. Lakeside Neurologic also strives to support honest and appropriate interactions with clients and their families and to include the client whenever possible in decisions about their care, treatment, and services, including ethical issues.

Lakeside Neurologic leadership continually evaluates its practices and relationships to ensure truthful and full disclosure, of care and services provided, marketing practices, admission processes, billing, contract services and clinical decisions. Rules of ethics are specific statements of minimally acceptable professional conduct or of prohibitions and are applicable to all individuals.